This is the second step of customer artwork checks, as well as that it checks your registration on colors and the alignment of body, register, and crop marks with the artwork.

On customer orders, use all the customer registration artwork provided at your discretion. These registration marks include registration, registration, and registration.

The ability to verify all registration marks, including color, is a key to ensuring that the printed product is to the extent of the product artwork and is under the same registration artwork.
